

Adrian Amaya

PHD STUDENT · DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS, UH MĀNOA

✉ aamaya2[at]hawaii[dot]edu | 🏠 www.adrian-amaya.com

Degrees

Ph.D. Economics
UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII AT MĀNOA
Advisor: Dr. Teresa Molina

Honolulu, Hawai'i
Expected May 2025

M.A. Economics
UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII AT MĀNOA

Honolulu, Hawai'i
May 2021

B.S. Economics
GEORGIA STATE UNIVERSITY

Atlanta, GA
May 2018

Professional Experience

2022-Present Research Assistant UHERO, UH Mānoa
2021-Present Summer Lecturer Economics Dept., UH Mānoa
2019-Present Graduate Teaching Assistant Economics Dept., UH Mānoa

Works in Progress

Amaya, Adrian. 2023. Insuring Health Against Bad Air: Medicaid enrollment in response to wildfire-induced PM exposure.

Amaya, Adrian, Villaseñor-Derbez, J. C., Lynham, John. 2023. Illuminating the Path to Recovery: Country-level analysis of nighttime lights, COVID-19 impacts, and determinants of resilience.

Amaya, Adrian. 2023. The Beautiful Game vs. Highway Congestion: Quantifying congestion costs and time lost on California's highways during a major soccer tournament.

Awards

2023 Seiji Naya Outstanding Third-Year Research Economics Dept., UH Mānoa

Teaching Experience

SUMMER LECTURER (ECONOMICS DEPT., UH MĀNOA)

2022 Principles of Microeconomics
2021 Principles of Microeconomics

TEACHING ASSISTANT (ECONOMICS DEPT., UH MĀNOA)

2023 Introduction to Statistics
2022 Intermediate Microeconomics, Intermediate Macroeconomics, Principles of Macroeconomics,
Introduction to Statistics
2021 Principles of Microeconomics, Introduction to Econometrics, Introduction to Statistics
2020 Principles of Microeconomics, Introduction to Statistics
2019 Principles of Microeconomics